

PFAS 101: What Every Homeowner Should Know

Wednesday, May 5
12:00–1:00 pm

This webinar is presented by the Michigan PFAS Action Response Team (MPART) to educate residents about, how PFAS impacts groundwater, sources of PFAS, testing options, treatment options, associated health effects, and other important facts homeowners should know. Personal perspectives will be given by members of the Citizens Advisory Workgroup (CAWG) about their experiences with PFAS contamination in their communities and tips they would like to share with homeowners.

Presenters: Abigail Hendershott, MPART Executive Director, Pam McQueer, CAWG Member, and Jenny Carney, CAWG Member

Target audience: All people interested in learning more about PFAS and their drinking water.
